Gloria Park is an intellectual property attorney whose practice focuses on trademark and copyright law, with an emphasis on helping clients protect, maintain and expand their brand portfolios.

As an arts enthusiast, Gloria is drawn to trademark and copyright law due to the field's close relationship with creative industries and the real-world applications of her legal lens. Gloria's experience as a trademark associate includes trademark selection, clearance, prosecution, maintenance, enforcement and litigation. She regularly collaborates with foreign counsel on behalf of clients with international portfolios.

Gloria's priority is helping clients maximize their unique intellectual property. She takes pride in her client relationships, and works proactively to maintain regular touchpoints and keep clients apprised of coming issues.
