

James P. Quinn

Intellectual Property Consultant (non-attorney)

jquinn@larkinhoffman.com

952.896.3309

Jim is a consultant to our Intellectual Property attorneys, providing insights on industry matters. He has a wealth of knowledge in the field and a great deal of experience in solving the most difficult of problems. Although Jim does not practice law today, he did so for over four decades, founding the firm's Intellectual Property and Technology Group and growing the practice to include technology development and transfers, e-commerce, data security, licensing, and the international protection of intellectual property.

Services

- Data Privacy and Cybersecurity
- Technology Commerce
- Intellectual Property and Technology
- Trademarks, Copyrights and Brand Protection