Victoria M. Callander advises clients in general civil litigation, helping them to navigate complex legal challenges efficiently and effectively. Victoria prides herself on providing attentive, strategic guidance to clients, educating them on their options and collaborating to develop approaches tailored to their goals.

Victoria appreciates Larkin Hoffman's open and collaborative culture, as well as the opportunity to work with a wide variety of clients. Prior to joining the Firm, she practiced as an associate attorney at a law firm in the Twin Cities where her practice centered around employment law, school law, municipal law, and civil litigation. While in law school, Victoria served as a law clerk for the Legal Service of South-Central Michigan and was as a mediator for the Southeastern Dispute Resolution Services. Victoria was also a member of the executive board for Michigan State College of Law's International Law Review. Victoria graduated magna cum laude, from Michigan State University College of Law.
